CHECKLIST

Incomplete rebate forms will NOT be accepted. Did you:

- ☐ Include a copy of your dated receipt or contractor invoice that details all installed equipment information, including brand, model # and serial #?
- ☐ Include your EPE account #?
- ☐ Complete all customer and installed equipment information?
- ☐ Sign and date the rebate?

Did you know that evaporative air conditioning systems use less electricity and are less expensive to install and maintain than refrigerated air conditioning? In hot, dry climates evaporative cooling is a cost effective and energy efficient way to cool your home.

The EPESaver Evaporative Cooling Rebate Program can help you reduce your energy bills by installing a high efficiency evaporative cooling system. The Program provides cash incentives to residential customers that install evaporative cooling systems.

Incentives vary depending on the type and efficiency of the unit, and systems must meet the following requirements:

- Be permanently installed (window units not eligible)
- Evaporative Air Conditioners must be on the EPE approved list in order to be eligible to receive a rebate. To view the eligibility list, visit www.epesaver.com.
- Have a single duct or multi-ducted distribution system (portable units not eligible).

The Knowledge You Need.

An evaporative cooler is essentially a large fan with water-moistened evaporative pads in the air stream. The fan draws warm outside air through the pads and blows the now-cooled air throughout the house.

Refrigerated air conditioning is a closed system, taking air from inside a house and recycling it. For refrigerated air conditioning to function properly, doors and windows should be closed. Evaporative cooling is an open system and takes air from outside the house. For evaporative cooling to work properly, the cooled air must flow freely throughout the area to be cooled. By choosing which doors or windows in your home to leave open, you can direct the flow of cooled air to areas where cooling is needed.

Participation Made Easy.

1. Select a contractor of your choice. For a list of participating contractors visit www.epesaver.com.
2. Customers may also elect to pursue an EPESaver Evaporative Air Cooling rebate without the help of a contractor.
3. Purchase a unit that is listed on the EPESaver Evaporative Cooler Eligibility List. To view the eligibility list, visit www.epesaver.com.
3. Once a new eligible evaporative air conditioning unit has been installed, the EPESaver Evaporative Air Conditioning rebate form must be completed and mailed along with a copy of your receipt or invoice to the rebate processing center address. Additional copies of this form can be downloaded from the EPESaver website at www.epesaver.com.
4. Your rebate will be mailed directly to you from EPE. Rebate checks will be mailed within 4–6 weeks of receiving the rebate form.
