COLDWELL BANKER RESIDENTIAL BROKERAGE - ARIZONA

Saving Money on Your Vacation

Looking to save money on your vacation this year? You are not alone. Today more than ever, people are vacationing on a scaled back budget. Having a vacation on a budget is doable and with the help of these tips, you will be on the road to savings in no time.

Get a travel agent. Travel agents are trained to help you get the best deal possible. They can help you find the best deals on flights, hotels, and car rentals. They can also help you find the best deals on travel insurance and other travel-related services.

Shop around for bargains. The old concept of supply and demand is likely going to work in your favor this year. People are saving their money and not spending as much, and hotels and resorts are feeling it. Shop around for deals on the Internet and take advantage of deals that involve free upgrades, free meals, or free activities.

Consider getting a credit card that gives you travel points or miles. United Airlines and Southwest both offer credit cards that give you miles based on your spending. Be sure to read the fine print and ask about associated fees. If you travel a lot, however, having such a credit card may pay off for you.

Take advantage of coupons. Whether it is for lodging, food or attractions, coupons save money. You can find them online, in your local newspaper, at grocery stores, etc. Be sure to read the fine print carefully for terms of the coupon.

Pack lightly and carefully. The airlines have new lower baggage limits and some carriers are charging fees if you check more than one bag. Make sure you know the rules and pack the weather conditions at your destination ahead of time at WeatherChannel.com and pack according to the forecast.

People are saving their money and not spending as much, and hotels and resorts are feeling it. Shop around for deals on the Internet and take advantage of deals that involve free upgrades, free meals, or free activities.

Consider getting a credit card that gives you travel points or miles. United Airlines and Southwest both offer credit cards that give you miles based on your spending. Be sure to read the fine print and ask about associated fees. If you travel a lot, however, having such a credit card may pay off for you.

MARKET OPPORTUNITY TOOLS

The Market Opportunity Newsletter, Market Opportunity Table, and Market Opportunity Calculator are designed to show people how buyers and sellers can take advantage of the market rather than being paralyzed or miss the market by watching from the sidelines.

The Newsletter tells the story of five scenarios where people were able to capitalize on market opportunities. Many will share an affinity with one or more of the stories.

The Calculator works just like any other amortization tool but with a few added features. First, it will allow you to show someone exactly what their loan balance is at any point in time during their loan.

Market Opportunity Table can be used as a template to share with your clients. It provides information on what happens to the cost of buying a home if interest rates should change in an easy chart.
