Urgent Call For Help To Control Red Hawkweed

You may have noticed red button blooms on 4" – 6" stalks arising in various grassy areas. The base plant has fuzzy leaves which are flat to the ground. If you look, you will notice that there are no other plants close to these fuzzy leaves. This is because this particular invasive plant is able to destroy all other plants which it closely touches. Yellow hawkweed is also sneaking into our neighbourhoods.

No bugs or animals that support our eco-system benefit from this plant. In fact, this plant destroys friendly vegetation (plants). This plant spreads by root and by seed.

What can you do? Physical removal of the hawkweed is best. If you cannot remove all of the plant then cut off the flowers to prevent spread by seed. Thank you for your help.

A Love of Learning

Andrew and Maureen had never really considered “Waldorf” for their son Fraser, but when he announced he was not going back to his school they decided to give it a try. They just hoped he would fit in. Two years later, his sister Emma was facing the same challenge, so she thought she had better ask her brother what Waldorf was really like. Her brother replied:

“Every day was the best day of my life.”

There are many such stories that we hear from parents at the Nelson Waldorf School. Our unique education attracts families from all over the world. We offer a strong academic curriculum, meeting and exceeding the BC Prescribed Learning Outcomes: in 2014, our students produced the highest provincial scores in the Kootenays for math and language arts. In addition to the full provincial curriculum, students learn music, woodwork, handwork and eurythmy*. All classes in the Waldorf curriculum are guided by three principles: Beauty, Goodness and Truth.

In a Waldorf School, children join a class in Grade One and have a “main lesson teacher” who follows the same group of children through the grades, often from Grade One to Grade Eight. Together, the teacher and children learn to accept and appreciate each other, forming lifelong friendships. Class trips are specific to each grade and support the development of strong group bonds; for example, all Grade Three children will visit a farm and camp overnight in the Kootenays, Grade Six students will train for a three-day bike trip in the spring, while Grade Eight students build snow caves in which they sleep on their winter camping trip.

What will your child get out of a Waldorf education?

A LOVE OF LEARNING ... FOR LIFE!

Can you afford a Waldorf education?

IN 2015, THE AVERAGE TUITION COST PER STUDENT WAS LESS THAN $2000 **

How will I get my child to the Waldorf School?

SCHOOL BUS SERVICE IS AVAILABLE

We have spaces in most grades (K-8)

For more information, contact our administrator at administrator@nelsonwaldorf.org

* Eurythmy: a training in group movement, co-ordination and co-operation, practised and often performed to music.

Recommended tuitions for families seeking tuition reduction are based on a combination of family income and assets, as determined by a third party, independent assessor. All families are welcome to apply for subsidy and pay a $100 assessment fee.

Yes, I Loved As You Like It

William Shakespeare wrote As You Like It in either 1599 or 1600. The play first appeared in print in the First Folio, in 1623. According to the American Heritage Dictionary, there are 884,647 words in the Bard's assembled sonnets and plays. Which leads me to my comments on JV Humphries School's recent staging of this, one of the great comedies in the English language.

I found myself, seated in the theatre, slack-jawed at the spectacle of a group of small-village high school kids reeling off astonishing amounts of complex Elizabethan dialog with nary a slip. I swear they must have run through, oh, 625,000 of those words by the end of the second act.

To sit in the crowd and listen to Rosalind, played with aplomb and vigour by Ayla van Horn, spout out lines like No, no, Orlando; men are April when they woo, December when they wed: maids are May when they are maids, but the sky changes when they are wives. I will be more jealous of thee than a Barbary cock-pigeon over his hen, more clamorous than a parrot against rain, more new-fangled than an ape, more giddy in my desires than a monkey... without missing a beat was astonishing.

It would take far too long to explain the play's convoluted plot. Suffice it to say, much of the action takes place in the Forest of Ardenne, a sort of back-to-nature, escape-the-city plot that director Jill Holland cleverly takes all modern – and Kaslovian, aided and abetted by music and dance numbers ably selected and choreographed by Lynette Lightfoot.

Rosalind's love interest, Orlando, was nicely played by Christopher Embury-Cullen, while Sam Cuell did a masterly turn as Adam. Liam Patience as Duke Senior, leader-of-the-forest peace & love gang, Shona McDougall as Rosalind's sidekick Celia, Gwyndon Whitney as Oliver, Aidan Tarini as Charles (and Silvius, the kid's a dual threat), Hannah Enns (more prodigious amounts of text, including the famous, All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players ...) as Jacques, Ethan Early as Duke Frederick, Kelsey Carlson as Phebe, and a particularly nice turn by Rowan Wiltse as Corin the shepherd, all acquitted themselves admirably. As did all the other kids who made up a cast of two dozen.

Kaslo is far from the Globe Theatre. This is 2015, not 1600. But somehow I think Mr. Shakespeare would have loved to have been in the Lighthouse Theatre the other evening, watching a group of earnest young amateurs stifle their stage fright, find their way through what, after over 400 years of constant mutation, has become a near-foreign language, and manage through it all to capture the essence of what he was writing about, way back then – and there. That nature has tremendous value, as it is. That a simple rural life well lived may be as good as it gets. That love will find a way – however awkwardly (and occasionally, hilariously.)

You know – just the way those of us who live here like it.

Japanese Canadian Museum Event

Café Langham – Inspired Ideas Speaker Series welcomes Yellowknife film maker, France Benoit, to the Langham on Tuesday, July 8 at 7 pm to show and discuss her film, Kiri's Piano. Inspired by Canadian folk singer James Keelaghan's song of the same name, the film chronicles one woman's sacrifice in the face of rampant prejudice tearing her Japanese-Canadian family apart. Kiri's once joyful piano music turns bitter when forced re-location and internment take away her husband, her home and her family's simple fishing life along the BC coast.

Like many people of Japanese descent, Kiri was forced to relocate to an internment camp during the war. The song is about her piano, her defiance and dignity. It is a poignant short film and Benoit says the support from Japanese Canadian communities has been enormous in making this film. She is excited to be hosted by both the Langham Japanese Canadian Museum and the New Denver Nikkei Centre.

The Langham's Japanese Canadian Museum 2015 summer/fall program series includes Café Langham talks, a gallery exhibition Regeneration, and performance, a fundraising event, youth programs and a mini film festival. The Langham is excited to present this new series which is inspired by and dedicated to Japanese Canadian citizens and their Asian cultural roots.

Fun-Building This Summer

Kids build their own fun – with some fun-building helpers – this summer at the Nelson Public Library's Summer Reading Club. Build it! is this year's theme, and that means a lot of hands-on activities, fun-building, and friend-building.

Sign-up has begun for summer reading logs. Kids can track their summertime reading and enter draws for prizes when they complete a page and just for signing up! Dairy Queen gift certificates will be drawn for sign-ups before July 4, and 25 young book lovers will win.

Things really get rolling on Wednesday, July 8 at 1 pm when The Purple Pirate shivers your timbers, and then shows you how easy it is to build your own pirate ship with some ropes, a little dancing, and a lot of team work.

Summer Reading Club fun includes Munchkin Mondays (for the small set) beginning July 6 from 1 – 2 pm and include a stuffy sleepover, dance party, dress-up day and more. Terrific Tuesdays are for six to nine year olds and runs from 10:30 am – 12 pm where they will build summertime fun with stories, games, and crafts. Whimsical Wednesdays from 1 – 2 pm are for all ages who like to have fun building with Lego, playing board games, and enjoying a full line-up of special events. Tween Thursdays, for ages nine to 12, builds fun and friends with snacks, stories, crafts and games.

All Summer Reading Club programs are drop-in and free of charge. Some special events may require registration. For full information go to www.nelsonlibrary.ca

Sasha

Sasha is a six-year-old male domestic short hair cat with a brown tabby coat. Sasha was abandoned at the door of the BC SPCA Nelson Branch about two years ago. Sasha was in rough shape when he arrived at the shelter, but was treated for his condition and adopted out but became quite ill again and was returned to our care. He has since been on medication for a chronic upper respiratory and heart condition. He is a special needs kitty as he is also mostly deaf.

A loving, affectionate cat, Sasha loves getting cuddles. He just loves to cozy up in front of the fire or on your lap. He is smart and comical with a courageous heart, having overcome many hurdles in his life, only to keep on showering his caregivers with love and providing many moments of laughter. His quality of life varies, but mainly he is joyful and fun-loving and he likes to talk about it!

Sasha is an enriching and entertaining companion who would do best with someone who spends most of their time at home, in a quiet, calm household as the only pet.

If Sasha sounds like the companion for you, please contact the BC SPCA Nelson Branch at 250-352-7178 or nelson@spca.bc.ca.
