THE BAY AREA

SAN FRANCISCO - MAP

THE BAY AREA

If you've opted out of the Tesla Housing Assistance Program and are curious where to start your search then check out some of the tips below.

A few things to consider...

- The Bay Area is an expensive place to live...not just for interns, but for everyone.
- Short term (3-6 month) leases are generally priced at a higher premium than long term (12 month) leases.
- San Francisco is a popular destination and offers tons to do in terms of social activities and a vibrant nightlife, but plan on paying higher rent in desirable SF neighborhoods and commuting to work.
- The Peninsula is a fun and convenient location if you are working in Palo Alto or Fremont. Most interns opt to live in Palo Alto, Mountain View, Sunnyvale, and San Jose.
- The East Bay offers more reasonable rent, but is more suburban than SF or the Peninsula and offers less of a social scene.
- Beware of apartment scams (commonly found on sites like craigslist.org) in which the landlord requires a deposit or financial transaction in advance of a site visit or signing a lease.

LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES AREA

If you've opted out of the Tesla Housing Assistance Program and are curious where to start you search then check out some of the tips below.

A few things to consider...

- LA is very expensive and finding the perfect spot at a reasonable price point can be tricky.
- LA is known for it's vast network of freeways so a car comes in handy. Expect to commute to work unless you opt to live in Hawthorne (close to the Design Studio).
- Most LA-based employees tend to live in the following communities: Torrance, Redondo Beach, Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach, El Segundo, Marina del Rey, and Playa del Rey.
- Beware of apartment scams (commonly found on sites like craigslist.org) in which the landlord requires a deposit or financial transaction in advance of a site visit or signing a lease.

TESLA SHUTTLE AND COMMUTER PROGRAM

Tesla Shuttle Program

Tesla offers free shuttle service between our Palo Alto and Fremont offices and public transportation (Palo Alto Caltrain, Fremont ACE train, and Fremont BART). We also offer heavily subsidized shuttle service at the following locations:

- Eastridge/Fremont: $20.00/month for unlimited use.
- SF/DC, SF/Fremont, Oakland/Fremont, Tracy/Fremont: $100.00/month for unlimited use.

You will have access to the shuttle schedule once you begin your internship. Shuttle times and locations may change as the program progresses. The schedule listed on the Tesla Internal site is the most updated and overrides any previous schedules. Shuttles will have a Tesla logo in the window.

Tesla Commuter Program

Regardless of your location, Tesla will pay for the cost of public transportation up to $125.00 per month. To be eligible for this benefit you must register by the monthly deadline through our supplier WageWorks.*

Tesla Shuttle and Commuter Program schedules and sign up available after your start date via your Tesla email account.*
