THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

When the man of God went on his way, a lion killed him, and his body was left lying with both the donkey and the lion standing beside it. When the prophet heard of it, he said, "It is the man of God who defied the word of the Lord. The Lord has given him over to the lion, as the Lord had warned him."

COLLECTING
 By Larry Cox
 Q: I have a bowl that has been identified as being made by the Diamond Cut Glass Works. Can you tell me anything about this company? -- Susan, Shreveport, La.
 A: Whenever I get a question about glass, I grab my copy of "Glass A to Z" by David J. Shotwell (Krause, $24.95). It is one of my favorite reference books in this field of collecting. According to Shotwell, the company was founded by Abraham Diamond in New York City in 1900. It was first listed as the Diamond Cut Glass Works in 1910, and purchased in 1915 by Lawrence I. and Minnie Cohn.

PAW'S CORNER
 By Sam Mazzotta
 Choosing a Family Pet
 DEAR PAW'S CORNER: We're visiting a breeder soon who is offering a new litter of puppies for sale. She says we should visit a few times to find the right puppy for our family. How do we choose the best of the litter? -- Kay S., Bowden, Ala.
 DEAR KAY: I don't think there's always a "best" puppy in a litter. However, there is the right "fit" for your family. For example, outgoing pups may do best with a family, while shy dogs work better with individuals.
 The breeder is offering to let you visit several times to find the best fit, which is a great selection method (and one mark of a good breeder). Often, such visits are spaced over several weeks, from a couple weeks after the puppies' birth to the time they are ready to leave (eight or more weeks).
 Because you will be spending quite a bit of money on a new dog, be observant during visits and ask questions. Make sure the puppies' living area is clean and that they all look healthy, happy and relaxed. Hold and play with puppies that interest you and watch their behavior around your children. As the weeks pass, observe their growth and the maturation of motor skills and awareness.
 The breeder will be observing you during this time as well. After all, she doesn't want to send well-bred puppies to owners who won't care for them. It's not unusual for professional breeders to refuse to sell a puppy to someone they have doubts about. Remember, the deal isn't done until both sides agree that the dog you pick is the best fit for you, and the papers are signed.
 Send your questions, tips or comments to ask@pawscorner.com, or write to Paw's Corner, c/o King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475.

Harrisburg - The Pennsylvania Game Commission and Harrisburg Stampede, the Capital City's American Indoor Football Association franchise, today announced that fans who bring their 2010-11 Pennsylvania hunting or furtaker license to any of the remaining four home games will be able to purchase a VIP floor box ticket for $15, and regular ticket for $10.

The final four games all begin at 7:30 p.m., on Saturday, April 23, April 30, May 14 and June 11; and are played at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Building, along Cameron Street in Harrisburg. COLLECTING-By Larry Cox
Cookbooks

Q: My great aunt operated a catering business in Mobile, Ala., during the 1920s and early '30s. She had several cookbooks that she especially liked, including at least three I think might be valuable: The Home Queen Cook Book, published in 1893; the White House Cookbook, the Frances Folsom Cleveland edition of 1894; and The Boston Cook Book by Mary J. Lincoln, the 1910 edition. -- Naomi, Glendale, Ariz.

A: I found all three of your cook books in the Antique Trader Collectible Cookbooks Price Guide by Patricia Edwards and Peter Peckham (Krause, $21.99). The values are $102 to $181 for The Home Queen Cook Book, $105 to $188 for the Cleveland edition of The White House Cookbook, and $45 to $81 for The Boston Cookbook. Check out the authors' excellent website at www.oldcookbooks.com.

NARCONON RECOVERY TIP #15

Improve and Respect the Environment

There are many things one can do to help take care of the planet and it begins with the idea that one should. Man has gotten up to the potential of destroying the planet and must be pushed on up to the capability and actions of saving it. By getting involved in positive environmental causes and being pro-active in safeguarding, improving and preserving the environment, one feels a sense of belonging and participating in a good cause. Care of the planet begins with oneself, but to protect your own possessions and places, you must get others to take care of theirs. While recovering from drug and alcohol addiction you must be involved in worthy and reputable causes that make you feel good about yourself and your environment. After all, this is the only home we have and we must take care of it. By improving and respecting the environment, you are not only doing good deeds for yourself, but the entire human race.

If you or someone you know is struggling with a drug or alcohol addiction contact Narconon Arrowhead today at 1-800-468-6933 or log onto www.stopaddiction.com. fb

MANGO-GLAZED HAM

The secret to this sweet glazed spiral cut ham is mango chutney and mango nectar.

- 1 cup Major Grey's mango chutney
 1/3 cup mango nectar
 2 cloves garlic, crushed with press.
 2 tablespoons honey
 1 tablespoon mustard powder
 Pepper
 1 (7 1/2 to 8 pound) fully cooked, spiral-sliced, smoked bone-in reduced-sodium half ham
 1/4 cup (or up to 1/2 cup) boiling water
 Parsley springs, for garnish
 Mango slices, for garnish
 Pineapple slices, for garnish

1. Preheat oven to 375 F. In blender, combine chutney, nectar, garlic, honey, mustard powder and 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper. Blend until very smooth. (Chutney mixture can be made, covered and refrigerated up to 1 day ahead.)
2. Place ham in 13-by-9-inch roasting pan. Rub chutney mixture on skin sides of ham. Bake 1 hour 15 minutes or until golden brown crust forms and meat thermometer inserted horizontally in bottom portion of ham (not touching bone) reaches 140 F.
3. Transfer ham to serving platter. Pour juices from pan into small bowl. Whisk in 1/4 to 1/2 cup boiling water, until pan juices are desired consistency. Garnish platter with parsley sprigs and mango and pineapple slices. Serve ham with pan juices. Serves 16.

The History Channel

- On April 25, 1719, Daniel Defoe's fictional work "The Life and Strange Adventures of Robinson Crusoe" is published. The book, about a shipwrecked sailor who spends 28 years on a deserted island, is based on the experiences of Alexander Selkirk, a Scottish sailor who spent four years on a small island off the coast of South America in the early 1700s.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- It was evolutionary biologist Richard Dawkins who made the following sage observation: “We are all atheists about most of the gods that societies have ever believed in. Some of us just go one god further.”

- It's been reported that for one two-year stretch, Elvis Presley ate nothing but meat loaf, mashed potatoes and tomatoes.
- In parts of Asia, tradition holds that if you sneeze once, someone is saying something good about you; if you sneeze twice in a row, something bad is being said; if you sneeze three times, someone is in love with you; and if you sneeze more than three times, you're about to catch a cold.

- If you're like the average human, you have about 1,500 dreams every year.

- We all know that the phrase “dog days of summer” refers to the most sultry days of the year, but have you ever wondered where the term came from? It seems that the ancient Romans believed that when Sirius, known as the dog star, shined the brightest -- which was during mid-summer -- it added its heat to the heat of the sun, making the hot season even more unbearable.

- Libra is the only sign of the zodiac that is not an animal.

• Even if you don't remember it from its original air dates in the 1950s and '60s, you surely have heard of the iconic American situation comedy "Leave It to Beaver." You might not realize, though, that the original working title was "Wally and the Beaver." The producers thought that made it sound like a show about a boy and his pet, so they changed it.

STRANGE BUT TRUE: By Samantha Weaver

- The fierce Apache warrior we know today as Geronimo was not originally so named. His given name was Goyahkla, which means "one who yawns."
  - As the end of the school year approaches, this might be a good time to remember that it was Americans who came up with the idea of summer camp.

NOW HERE'S A TIP
By JoAnn Derson
• Keep a kitchen timer near your phone so that you can limit the length of long-distance calls. They can add up quickly if you don't watch it!
• "Here's a great way to get a longer life out of a bar of soap: Press the plastic top of a pop bottle into the side of a wet bar of soap. When you set the bar down in your soap dish, put it plastic side down. This way, the bar doesn't sit in any residual water and turn into a goopy mush. The plastic top comes out easily if you need to remove it." -- Y.P. in Illinois

• Rub hands with lemon slices to get rid of onion or fish smells. Afterward, you can put the lemon slices down your garbage disposal unit with a few ice cubes to get rid of smells there, too.

THE MCKEAN COUNTY 4-H CLUB

On April 17, the McKean County met at the 911 Center located in Smethport, PA. The meeting was called to order by President, Zoe Miles., Secretary's report was given by Stephanie McFall, News Report by John Post, and Game Leader by Hunter Miles.
There were six members, two guests, (Marcia Lamar, Crystal Miles), and 1 leader (Kim Tanner) present. The American Pledge was done by Hunter Miles, and the 4-H Pledge by Kiana Miles. The members had Don Hunt from Shinglehouse talked about St. Jude's and collected their pop tabs they collected. The members learned that it takes 1,200 tabs to make 1 pound. After the collection of tabs for the year, Don will take them to their salvage yard (they will double the amount collected) and get the money to turn into St. Jude's. The amount of tabs that the members collected was about 8 pounds. Don also brought the Big Pig from the 95.7 WPIG Radio Station. Each of the members got their pictures taken with the Big Pig and Don.
The members discussed the yard sale, items for SPCA, Frozen Food Sale, Livestock Registration, and Weigh-in.
Hunter provided the game that was called Bop It. Snacks were provided by John Post, and drinks by Hunter Miles. The club is going to clean up the Lamphere Cemetery in Eldred, PA as another one of their committee service projects.
The next meeting for the McKean County LiveStock Club is scheduled for May 15th.

ROADSHOW PAYING CASH FOR GOLD, SILVER, COINS AND ANTIQUES TODAY THROUGH SATURDAY!

By Jason Delong
STAFF WRITER

Roll up your sleeves and get ready to start your spring cleaning early this year. The Treasure Hunters Roadshow opens today in Olean and is looking for antiques and collectibles. Remember those Hot Wheels cars you played with as a kid? You know, the ones that have been stored away in the attic for the past 30 years. Well it's time to dig 'em out, along with any other forgotten treasures. You might be sitting on a small fortune and not even know it.

Roadshow representative, Archie Davis, explains what the event is all about. "It's a chance to get paid today, on the spot, for your classic collectibles. We host over 3,000 shows every year throughout the U.S. and Canada. Toys, dolls, trains, pocket watches, old advertising signs, gold jewelry, coins and just about anything can be sold at the Roadshow. This event is popular because it puts money in people's pockets. At a typical show, we will see hundreds of people during the five day event. We will see a few unusual items, but mostly we will see a lot of old coins, gold jewelry, and a wide variety of antiques and collectibles. Last week at a show in Missouri, a retired dentist walked in with over 5 lbs. of dental gold fillings. "I would say that is pretty unusual, wouldn't you say?" commented Davis. The gentleman received over $31,243 for his gold fillings. He told Davis that over the years he would keep the extracted teeth when the owners didn't want them. He would throw them in a jar and over the years it added up to over 5 lbs. of gold. Now, not everyone has a jar of gold teeth lying around, but according to Davis, more than you might think have some sort of gold they can cash in. Davis says, "The Roadshow receives a fair amount of gold each day of the 5 day event."

TREASURE HUNTERS ROADSHOW HAS BEEN TOURING THE WORLD SINCE 2001. THIS YEAR ALONE, WE WILL VISIT 3,000 CITIES AND OVER HALF A MILLION PEOPLE WILL CASH IN!

Broken jewelry, gold coins and dental gold have been the largest payouts so far with today's high gold prices. Archie Davis commented, "Other top categories at the Roadshow would have to be silver dollars and other coins, pocket watches and my personal favorite, old toys." Davis told me a story about a visitor at a recent Roadshow in Iowa. "This elderly gentleman walked into the show and asked if we were interested in old toys. He explained that he had kept all of the toys from his childhood and that they were outside in his pickup. I walked outside, and to my surprise his pickup was full of the coolest old toys I had ever seen: big old metals trucks, pedal cars, train sets, cast iron toys, he had it all. At the end of that day, he ended up walking away with over $7,000 for his old toys. His last comment to me was, 'Well, I guess it's time to let 'em go.'"

WE BUY SCRAP GOLD & GOLD JEWELRY

Whether you have 5 lbs. of gold or a single gold tooth, a pickup full of old toys or a single Barbie doll, you should visit the Roadshow this week. It's free, it's fun and it could put some money in your pocket, maybe a lot of money!

MOMENTS IN TIME: The History Channel

- On May 9, 1671, Thomas Blood, an Irish adventurer better known as "Captain Blood," is captured attempting to steal the Crown Jewels from Charles II of England in the Tower of London. Charles was so impressed with Blood's audacity that, far from punishing him, he made him a member of his court with an annual pension.
- On May 14, 1914, Washington Senators pitcher Walter "Big Train" Johnson throws his 54th consecutive scoreless inning, against the St. Louis Browns in Sportsman Park III. Johnson broke a 53-inning record set in 1910 by Jack Coombs of the Philadelphia Athletics.
- On May 11, 1934, a massive dust storm sends 350 million tons of topsoil flying from across the parched Great Plains as far east as New York, Boston and Atlanta. Even ships some 300 miles offshore saw dust collect on their decks.
- On May 12, 1949, an early crisis of the Cold War comes to an end when the Soviet Union lifts its 11-month blockade against West Berlin. The blockade had been broken by a massive U.S.-British airlift of 278,288 relief missions to the city, resulting in the delivery of 2,326,406 tons of supplies.
- On May 15, 1963, Gordon Cooper is launched into space aboard Faith 7 on the longest American space mission to date. Cooper completed 22 orbits of the Earth and spent 34 hours in space.
- On May 13, 1981, Pope John Paul II is shot and wounded at St. Peter's Square in Rome. Turkish terrorist Mehmet Ali Agca, an escaped fugitive already convicted of a previous murder, fired several shots at the religious leader. Agca was immediately captured. After a two-day trial, he was sentenced to life in prison.
- On May 10, 1990, the government of the People's Republic of China announces that it is releasing 211 people arrested during the massive protests held in Tiananmen Square in Beijing in June 1989. Most observers viewed the prisoner release as an attempt by the communist government of China to dispel much of the terrible publicity it received for its brutal suppression of the 1989 protests.

Wee Ones Welcome

By Tresa Erickson

While some couples opt not to have children at their wedding, others do. They take great delight in young children and can't fathom having a celebration without them. If you share in this feeling and would like to have children at your wedding, make sure you plan for them accordingly.

If at all possible, hold your wedding in the morning or afternoon. The later your wedding is, the more likely your young guests will become tired and act out of sorts. Those accustomed to going to bed around 8 o'clock may even fall asleep during the celebration, forcing parents to leave early.

Look for a venue that is child friendly. Don't select a hotel with a lot of fine antiques. Young guests will be too tempted to touch all of the wonderful things surrounding them. Select a hotel with modern decor and make sure there are rooms nearby where young guests can nap if needed. Ask your ushers to seat all parents with young kids near the back of the room during the ceremony so they can leave quickly if needed.

Provide ample entertainment. Even the best-behaved children act up when they get tired and bored. To prevent this at your reception, hand out crayons and coloring books to little ones at tables and set up an area where children can play after dinner. If most of your young guests can handle sitting by themselves, you could set up a separate table for them where they could sit, draw and color together. Just make sure you have an adult on hand to supervise the action.

If you have the budget, consider bringing in a clown, magician or some other form of entertainment for your young guests. If you are having your reception outdoors, rent a bouncy castle and find a volunteer to supervise the operation. You might even arrange for a group of volunteers to serve as babysitters and whisk the kids off to another room for hours of fun while their parents enjoy the reception.

Finally, make sure you have plenty of food and drink on hand. Provide snacks and beverages for young guests before dinner to alleviate any hunger pains they might be having. Then serve them a meal they will eat. Children do like to eat, but that doesn't mean they will like what you are serving at your reception. For the best results, consult with your caterer and create a child-friendly menu for younger guests. Serve chicken nuggets and macaroni and cheese in lieu of lemon chicken and rice. Your younger guests will appreciate it, and so will their parents.

These are just some of the accommodations you can make for your young guests to ensure everyone has a good time. Keep in mind you may need to take fewer or additional measures depending upon the number of young guests at your wedding. If you are planning on five or six youngsters, then you may be able to have an evening wedding at an elite hotel. If you are planning on 10 to 20 youngsters, then you may need to set your wedding for an earlier time and bring in some entertainment. If your budget allows, you could always hire a professional on-site babysitting service and leave the supervising and entertaining to them!

The Right Person For The Job

By Tresa Erickson

You just got engaged, and already your mind is whirling with ideas for your wedding. Along with setting a date and choosing a venue, you will have to select wedding attendants. As the bride, you will probably want to start the process with your maid or matron of honor.

For some brides, selecting a maid of honor is a no-brainer. There is no one more suited for the job than their one and only sister or their best friend since kindergarten. For others, the decision is much more difficult. They have several sisters and close friends, plus a ton of cousins. In that case, the best course of action is to select a person who can fulfill all of the obligations of the job.

Traditionally, maids of honor have a variety of responsibilities. Some of these may include:

- Assisting the bride with much of the wedding planning, including choosing a reception venue, decorations and flowers
- Helping the bride shop for a wedding dress and bridesmaid dresses
- Addressing the wedding invitations
- Making or assembling the wedding favors
- Hosting the bridal shower and bachelorette party
- Attending the rehearsal and helping out at the rehearsal dinner
- Decorating and cleaning up the reception site

- Receiving the flowers and handing out all of the bouquets, corsages and boutonnieres
- Helping the bride and bridesmaids get dressed and making sure they get where they need to be at the appropriate time
- Holding the bride's bouquet during the ceremony
- Witnessing the marriage license
- Standing in the receiving line
- Taking part in the wedding photos
- Toasting the couple at the reception
- Dancing with the best man and other guests

Depending upon your wishes, the maid of honor may have more or fewer duties to perform. Sit down and decide exactly what you would like your maid of honor to do. Make a list of their duties and a list of potential candidates for the job. Then start comparing the lists.

Be honest in your assessment of each candidate on your list. You need a person who not only will be willing to carry out the duties you assign but do them on time. You may love your little sister, but if she is a procrastinator, she may not be the best candidate for the job. Your older sister, on the other hand, might make a better choice because she is so timely.

Consider each candidate's personal situation as well. What kind of commitments does she already have? If your older sister is a wife and mother, works full time and heads several committees, she may be too busy to serve as your matron of honor. If she is pregnant, she may be too tired and sick to perform the duties required. If she is going through a difficult divorce, she may not have the energy to devote to you and your wedding. Choose someone who doesn't have as much on her plate to be your maid of honor.

If you plan to lean heavily on your maid of honor, make sure you choose someone who lives close enough to you to get the job done. If you live in the Midwest, don't choose a cousin who lives on the coast to be your maid of honor. It will be hard for her to serve as the center of support from so far away. Choose that dependable friend who lives just down the street.

Choosing a maid of honor takes time. Don't rush the process, and once you have a found someone and she has agreed to serve as your maid of honor, make sure you communicate your wishes to her. If you want her to take an active role in the wedding planning, say so. If you would prefer she sit on the sidelines until the actual wedding day, let her know that. Give her a list of all of the tasks she will be responsible for and check in with her often to see how things are going.

The Perfect Choice

By Tresa Erickson

After years of dating, you finally proposed to your girlfriend and she happily accepted. You are both excited and looking forward to the wedding planning in the months ahead. One of the first decisions you will make as the groom is who will serve as your best man. There are a number of people who could fulfill the role; you just have to decide who would make the best fit.

If you have several close family members and friends, you may find it difficult to select a best man. Make a list of candidates, keeping in mind that your best man does not have to be a man or a family member. Your sister Rita or best friend Katie might make a perfectly good best woman.

Before you begin narrowing your list, you must consider the duties your best man will have to perform. The responsibilities of the best man vary from wedding to wedding. Traditionally, they include:

- Hosting the bachelor party
- Picking up and returning all tuxedos
- Helping transport guests
- Getting the groom where he needs to go on the big day
- Assisting the groomsmen on the big day and keeping them on track
- Bringing the rings to the ceremony
- Witnessing the marriage license

• Paying and tipping service providers as needed

• Toasting the bride and groom at the reception

• Driving the newlyweds to the airport after the wedding if needed

Depending upon your schedule, you may have the best man do more or less for your wedding. If you have a long list of duties, you will want to select someone who is dependable and has the time to get everything done.

In order to narrow your list of potential candidates, consider their qualifications in relation to the duties you would like them to perform. Be realistic in your assessment. Your younger brother may be very dependable, but with school and work, he may be too busy to take on the role of best man, especially if it involves several duties. Your older, more-established brother might make a better choice. On the other hand, if all you are looking for is someone to host the bachelor party and stand up with you on your big day, then your younger brother might make a good choice.

Pay attention to the distance factor. If your brothers live in the Pacific Northwest and the wedding is in Miami, they might be too far away to be a good best man. Choosing a close friend who lives nearby and has easy access to everything might be better, especially if you want them to take an active role in the wedding planning.

Whoever tops your list, make sure they want to serve as your best man. For one reason or another, some people simply prefer being a wedding guest rather than an attendant. Keep that in mind and make sure you find out what the frontrunners think before you make your final decision. Should you be unable to select just one person, don't hesitate to divide the duties among two or three people. Rather than one best man and two groomsmen, you could have three best men.

Selecting a best man takes time and effort. Be prepared to do the work, or you could end up being disappointed, and always have a backup choice. You never know when illness or some other unforeseen event might come up and take precedence over your wedding.

Shower the Couple with Fun!

Wedding showers are a fun part of the pre-wedding activities. Besides providing friends and family the chance to give much-needed gifts to the engaged couple, showers are a great excuse to get together and celebrate before the wedding. Following are some hints to help make your shower both fun and successful. Ten Steps to a Successful Shower

1. Guests: Consult with the wedding couple, their parents, the bridal party and other friends to ensure a complete guest list.

2. Time: Select the day and hour of your shower while you're clearing the guest list. Make sure the principal guests can attend.

3. Theme: Have a creative theme that will suit the couple's personalities.

4. Location: Pick a location that will accommodate the number of potential guests and that will work with your theme.

5. Invitations: Invitations may be purchased or handmade. Mail them at least two weeks before the shower. Include all of the following: name of person(s) being honored, date, time, place (include directions), kind (theme), where the couple is registered and name of the hosts. Be sure to ask for an R.S.V.P.

6. Food: Plan a menu to go with your theme. Don't forget silverware, plates, glasses, etc.

7. Decorations: Choose decorations that will give your shower area a festive look.

8. Activities: Guests like to do things at showers besides watch the bride open her gifts. Plan fun games that will follow the theme or have someone demonstrate a new craft.

9. Helpers: Contact guests you know well to help you run your shower smoothly.

10. Relax and enjoy. Here are some shower themes to help you plan a very memorable occasion for your special bride or couple:

• Shower on a Shoestring - This coordinated potluck activity has each guest bringing a food item in a serving container that will become a gift for the honored guest. After eating, everyone joins to wash and dry the gift pieces. The guests tuck a card and recipe in their containers.

• Wine-and-Cheese-Tasting Shower - This shower is fun for everyone, and it's a great way to stock the wedding couple's bar. Each guest brings two bottles of wine (one for testing and one wrapped for giving). Before each wine is tested the guests give a toast to the couple.

• Handy Andy/Hardware Hannah Shower - The couple is presented with scissors, batteries, hammers, brooms and other similar gifts. Each is wrapped in the original hardware store bag and tied with twine or rope. End the party with a handy hint session: each guest gives one helpful suggestion and writes it on a 3x5 card.

• Greenhouse Shower - The wedding couple is "sprinkled" with gifts such as plants, flowers, greenery, pots, macramé hangers, containers, garden tools and supplies.

• Postal Shower - When a couple is married in a far-off state and most of the hometown crowd can't attend, hold this type of shower. Set a date and ask the couple to be at a certain place at a certain time. Instruct everyone to mail a present so it will arrive before the shower date.

NASCAR THIS WEEK: By Monte Dutton

Nice Guys Finish ... Fourth

TALLADEGA, Ala. -- Know the cartoon where the sheep dog and the wolf -- they're named Ralph E. Wolf and Sam Sheepdog if you're keeping a scorecard at home -- fight all day and then exchange pleasantries as they punch their time cards at the end of each day?

A bit of that dynamic comes into play at Talladega Superspeedway these days, only in reverse. Instead of parting on good terms, Restrictor Plate Racing 7.0 is a program in which everyone plays nice -- or at least attempts to do so -- until the very end.

But the seeming rivals do work together. Some NASCAR fans yearn for the days of rugged individualists and cold-blooded decisions. They want their favorite driver to look out for No. 1. Or, perhaps, No. 88.

In the latest case, many Dale Earnhardt Jr. fans -- we're talking tens of thousands -- tramped to the parking lots and motored home from Talladega Superspeedway grumbling about what a good dude their hero was.

Earnhardt Jr. didn't win the Aaron's 499, but he was instrumental in Jimmie Johnson's victory. Earnhardt concluded long before the finish that the drafting partnership -- races at Talladega and Daytona have become almost an entirely new genre in which drivers race in tandem -- with Johnson worked better with the winner of the past five championships riding in front.

The trouble, from the perspective of Earnhardt's fans, is that riding behind Johnson makes it impossible for Earnhardt to win. Not that Johnson wasn't a sympathetic figure, mind you. It had been a whole 15 races since the perennial champion's most recent victory.

And Earnhardt has been prospering. Why, he won ... 101 races ago. George W. Bush, no relation to Kyle and Kurt (Busch), was president.

The four drivers at Hendrick Motorsports might as well be ... musketeers. There were four of them, you know: Athos, Portos and Aramis were eventually joined by d'Artagnan. They acted with esprit de corps, morale and several other terms derived from French.

All for one. One for all. Just like Johnson, Earnhardt, Jeff Gordon and Mark Martin.

Earnhardt explained it all matter-of-factly in the style of the swell guy he is.

"Well, I was more comfortable pushing Jimmie [Johnson], and I think we were the faster combination pushing that way," he said.

If only there had been a fife and bugle corps performing in the background, Earnhardt's words would have rung even more wholesome.

"If I couldn't win the race," he said, "I wanted Jimmie to win the race because I had worked with him all day, and he's my teammate and I'm proud to be driving for Hendrick Motorsports, and this was a great finish and a great weekend for us to be able to qualify like we did, race like we did, and we have awesome engines and we build great cars and we all finished very well today, and that is a tribute to the craftsmanship we have back in Charlotte."

Johnson, of course, was appropriately grateful.

Of teammate and fourth-place finisher Earnhardt, Johnson said, "He made the decision that my car was faster leading, and the way these things have been finishing up that lead car is going to have the win, so, in some respects, he was more worried about the team having a good performance than anything. They are responsible for this win today."

The atmosphere at Hendrick Motorsports is obviously conducive to victories and championships. Almost everyone in NASCAR says over and over that it is a team sport, even though, by definition, it really isn't.

Dale Earnhardt, Original Recipe, once had teammates. He treated a guy named Mike Skinner as if he were his personal valet. Much, however, has changed since then.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- We've all seen pictures of African women carrying heavy loads -- up to 75 pounds in some cases -- balanced securely on their heads. But you might not realize that these women can carry more, relative to body size, more efficiently than pack mules.
- The name of the country of Iraq is derived from the Arabic word meaning "origin."
- If you've ever watched the closing credits of a film (and are not yourself involved in the movie industry), you might be wondering about some of the titles you've seen, so here's a quick rundown: The gaffer is the chief electrician on the project; the key grip puts together and takes down sets, as well as lighting and laying the track on which the cameras move; and the best boy assists the gaffer and the key grip.

Coke Bottle

Q: I have an old Coca-Cola bottle in amber glass and am curious about its value. -- John, Bay Minette, Ala.

A: According to several collectors I contacted, most amber Coca-Cola bottles are generally valued in the $20 to $35 range, depending on age and condition. Bill Schutz is president of the Mobile Gulf Coast Coca-Cola Collectors Club, which includes both Alabama and Louisiana. He might be able to help you. Contact him at bmschutz@aol.com.

PAW'S CORNER
By Sam Mazzotta

Oxygen Hose Is No Chew Toy

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I have a 2-year-old cat, "Annie," who loves to chew on anything plastic -- particularly my wife's oxygen hose. How can I stop her from doing this? It gets costly. -- Dave F., via email

DEAR DAVE: It's not just costly in terms of replacing medical equipment, there's also the risk of Annie having to endure a costly surgery to remove bits of plastic lodged in her digestive tract. However, it can be tough to break a cat of certain habits, and many cats love to gnaw at certain textures and shapes.

If possible, you or your wife should come up with ways to move the oxygen hose (or hoses) out of Annie's reach, either by attaching to the chair with a strip or two of medical tape or, if carrying oxygen around, by looping the excess length of hose around the top of the tank or over one's shoulder.

Another method to consider is spraying the exposed length of hose with a cat repellent. Several types are available at pet stores and are used to deter cats from clawing or gnawing things like furniture or other fascinating protuberances. In either case, constant vigilance is still required, as Annie will continue to try to bite the hose if she can get close enough (despite the presence of any stinky spray). When she makes a move toward the hose, distract her with a toy or by calling her. Or, by gently picking her up and placing her in another part of the room, ideally facing a favorite toy or scratching post on which she can take out her energy.

Send your questions or comments to ask@pawscorner.com, or write to Paw's Corner, c/o King Features Weekly Service, P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475. Find more pet advice and resources at www.pawscorner.com.

COLLECTING: By Larry Cox

Q: I have two Edison Diamond Disc 78s, each with a small chip. They feature Billy Wynne's Greenwich Village Inn orchestra, Benny Davis and Joe Burke, Fry's Million Dollar Pier orchestra, and Gus Kahn. -- Jean, Oxford, Conn.

A: The Edison Diamond Disc recordings actually are cut at 80 rpm, not 78 rpm. More importantly, they could not be played on standard machines, and since they required a special Edison player, the quarter-inch discs were soon eclipsed by the more accessible recordings being issued by such companies as Victor, Brunswick and Columbia. Most Edison discs sell in the $5 to $10 range, depending on condition and desirability.

Q: I have a copy of "The Sinking of the Titanic and Great Sea Disasters," edited by Logan Marshall and published in 1912 by L.T. Meyers. It is in good condition, and I would like to know its value. -- Artrischia, Cottage Hills, Ill.

A: I found several copies offered for sale at www.abe.com in the $45 to $75 range. I also checked with several used bookstores in Los Angeles, Denver, New York and St. Louis, where I found early editions with average prices of about $50. As with most collectibles, prices are generally determined by rarity, demand and condition.

Q: I have a large collection of fossils and need help in identifying them. -- Pam, Winchester, Va.

A: Nathaniel Ludlum is a member of the International Society of Appraisers, and he specializes in the appraisal of mineral and fossil collections for insurance, donation and estate purposes. He might be able to help you. Again, you should expect to pay for his expertise. Contact him c/o Natural History Appraisals, 7323 Tucker Road, Centerville, OH 43001.

NOW HERE'S A TIP

By JoAnn Derson

• To get glass shower doors squeaky clean, use a paste of baking soda and water to scrub stubborn water stains, then rinse the whole thing with straight white vinegar. Put the vinegar in a spray bottle and spray well, then rub off with a sponge. Rinse with plain water.

Unscramble these twelve letter strings to form each into an ordinary word (ex. HAGNEC becomes CHANGE). Prepare to use only ONE word from any marked (♥) letter string as each unscrambles into more than one word (ex. ♥ R A T H E becomes HATER or EARTH or HEART). Fit each string's word either across or down to knot all twelve strings together.
